Made to Last

RF sealed mattresses from Casco are constructed of materials equal to OEM quality. C-MATT Birthing Bed mattresses feature:

- Omni-directional stretch, polyurethane coated Dartex fabric.
- Anti-microbial protection that prevents growth of mildew and fungus.
- A vented coverlet that permits condensation to escape.
- Fully wipeable surfaces that can be disinfected after each change of patient.
- 100% virgin polyurethane Richfoam® from CARPENTER with no fillers or additives.
- Five-year, non-prorated warranty on materials and workmanship.

C-MATT Mattresses Provide Moisture Protection

RF welding creates a contiguous bond, stronger than a sewn seam, yet without needle holes and thread that can allow fluids to penetrate or wick into the core of an ordinary sewn mattress.

Casco sealed seams extend product life by shielding the foam core from moisture and unpleasant odors.

The C-MATT sealed seams eliminate the prime breeding grounds for bacterial growth and unpleasant odors.
